To
My Brave Friend and Fellow-Player
CAPTAIN ROBERT STOWE GILL
Actor, Soldier, Humanitarian
Who Smilingly Made the Supreme Sacrifice

THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Sleep on, Brave-Heart, the drums are mute,
The birds in woodland call;
Where cannons roared the summer's flute
Holds listening world in thrall.
The glory yours, the night's deep calm,
Her wings your field enfold;
Sleep on unknown beyond life's harm,
Beyond the dawning's gold.

The Unknown Answers:

"Mourn not, Dear-Ones, the tears will pass,
The requiem chant is sweet,
But I sleep not beneath the grass,
Beneath the poppies' feet.
Beyond the shining morning bars
Where phantom hosts have trod,
I walk the highway of the stars
And I have seen my God!"
